password recoveryQ: How to remove base elements from array of arrays Let's say I have an array of arrays with three items inside: [ [0, 1, 2], [3, 4, 5], [6, 7, 8] ] As you can see, a base element array with three items is inside the array itself. And I want to remove that base array, but the array of arrays stays the same, so every array that contains the base array should remove that base array. Here is what it should look like after it gets to work: [ [0, 1, 2], [3, 4, 5], [6, 7, 8] ] How can I do that? Any help would be very appreciated. A: You can use filter() to remove the base arrays and then flatten the resulting array. const data = [ [0, 1, 2], [3, 4, 5], [6, 7, 8] ]; const results = data.filter(item => item !== [0, 3da54e8ca3
