Q: MVC 5 Single Page Application
Can i create a web application using mvc 5, In which I'll use that project on multiple browser or mobile browsers, instead of having multiple website application for multiple browsers? A: You can use multiple Application for different usecases. For example you can create an application for mobile and another one for web. Your question is a bit unclear, but i think what you mean is that if you will have one ASP.Net MVC 5 (or whatever you use) project, you will be able to deploy your project into multiple environment with different purpose (i.e. web and mobile)

  $("li").each(function() { //alert($(this).text());
    $(this).find('span').text("some text"); }); }); A: You can do that: $('comment').click(function() { $("li").find('span').text("some text"); }); But that's not really a great idea. Have a look at this demo.
