The Lands Between is a world outside of time where a conflict between the Alliance and the Brotherhood is currently taking place. Two parties are fighting for the balance of time and living things. One party is the Alliance that wields magic, and the other is the Brotherhood that wields strength. You will work with these two parties to walk through the Lands Between. In this vast world, you can choose the path of the Alliance, the Brotherhood, or the Arbitrary Party. ABOUT WTF S.T.A.L.K.E.R.: You are a survivalist soldier in the Chernobyl Exclusion Zone. You have been brought in to secure the zone's power supply, a great deal of which is stored there. In the midst of this, you are facing a deadly threat... A sleek, white owl glides majestically through the sky above Northern Lake District, carrying a small piece of parchment tied to a stick. Even now, weeks after the Black Death struck here, the rat is still not gone. It stinks, and its bite infects the lands that it climbs on. In a short time, the pest will spread, and the more it spreads, the more it will breed and the more it will take lives from the residents of Northern Lake District. The rat will travel to the southern areas of the town and the lands under the protection of Forsythia Hall. It will spread to the middle and northern areas, surrounding the enclave of the town. It will search everywhere. It will tear down homes and rip the lives of the people living there. The black plague will come to Northern Lake District! Now, the owls have long ago been replaced by poison-spitting moths and a vile pest called Deathfang. Whom will you employ? A scout owl has been carrying this piece of parchment to you for a short while now. Decide what to do with it. A dark ink blotches away at the edge of the parchment. >This is my sister's handwriting. > >Many years ago, when my parents were killed by a terrible band of criminals known as the Black Lotus, my sister and I were nearly butchered. Thankfully, they weren't able to find our bodies, but now their remains have been scattered all across the region. Each section on the piece of parchment is a clue to our whereabouts. They've told me to do this. > >'m trusting this to
