Complete coverage of the day's events can be found on our Dreams Section at latimes.com/entertainment/dreams As always, please let us know your thoughts in the comment section below or visit us on The Dream Pages . April 1st, 2014, was a big day. That's because it was the one-year anniversary of Mads Mikkelsen Scary Movie 5, and it seems like Scary Movie 5 has become the go-to scary movie in IMDB reviews! Who would have thought it would be this year's Scream? Either way, it's been a fabulous year for the terror genre. Kathryn Bigelows modern-day witch tale is coming to theaters this weekend. The Witch stars Nicole Kidman, who plays a simple, family-minded country girl who meets a lesbian witch (played by Bigelows real-life partner, Leslie Mann) who is far more powerful than you might imagine. The movie mixes supernatural folklore with history, and it is definitely entertaining. I enjoyed it but, like a lot of movies like it, it is slow at times.

It may be worth a watch to see Mann and Bigelow go head to head but, overall, the movie is unoriginal and the supernatural elements are not that scary. In the year 2032, Amy Acker is no stranger to this world. She's lived two lives and seen two unfortunate deaths. But death is no longer an option for her and she's ready to live forever with Joshua Tannen. Terminator fans will be excited to hear that this story is a prequel to the first movie. Acker is terrific as the new actress, Sarah Connor, a role she got from the first movie. This time around, she's played by Jai Courtney.
