2share is an application for Windows that allows you to mount removable devices as an image to check out files or folders contained in the image. It also gives you the possibility to browse the files you want and create folders and copy files to another computer. After connecting a device, an icon appears in the Windows Explorer window, which you can open in order to browse the image and its files. You can copy files or folders into your computer, using the integrated window where you can browse through the image content, as well as create empty folders and view their content. It doesn't have a calendar feature and the search function isn't very helpful, although you can import the tags the device itself has. The software has a very intuitive interface that provides all the features you could possibly need. We would have liked to see a better search function, as well as a calendar, but the good news is that it doesn't affect the overall performance. We tested it for about 20 minutes and didn't experience any lag or the computer's crash. 2share Description: Xsplit Broadcaster is a multi-purpose program that lets you broadcast your desktop to multiple systems.
