The first inning of Wednesday's Doubleheader game against the Blue Jays saw a fly ball go off the right field wall for a home run, a shot that ricocheted off the roof of the press box, and then bounced in the concourse, bringing the crowd to their feet. In the second inning, Twins lefty Jamie Callahan gave up four hits and three runs. He also had a bases-clearing triple off the wall in left field, a scorching pop fly that was mishandled by third baseman Josh Donaldson, and a hard grounder hit right to Callahan, who fumbled, then had to throw to first to keep the batter from getting a double. But the real problems in the frame began in the fourth inning. The Twins had runners on second and third with two outs, and at the time, the outfield was left to Donaldson, Brian Dozier, Kyle Schwarber and Aaron Judge. The latter two were running out, in that order. Dozier was the lead runner, Schwarber was halfway between the two, and Dozier was running towards Judge. Judge was well beyond the bag when Dozier crossed the plate, and he was never in any real danger of being tagged out. He did look behind himself a couple of times as if he were trying to make sure he was going to be able to complete the play, but he was safe. But the play came with Judge still a few feet past the bag, and Dozier was out of position to apply the tag. The ball was thrown back towards him, and Dozier lunged and reached both feet into the air before making contact with the ball.

Q: How to make a popup for a submit button with JQuery I have searched for the past hour or so, trying to find out how to make a button that when clicked, pops up a box and the user can choose from there to submit the form. The reason I need this is that the submit button I have does not have the whole form in it, so when the user submits, the user has to enter in the text box anyway, so I would like to offer them a way to submit without being required to fill in the text box. Here is a link to a screen shot of the page I am working with. The form that is the problem is highlighted.

A: What you need is a confirmation dialog, use confirm dialog for the form submission. You need to create a confirm dialog box and an input submit button, `$(document).ready(function(){ $('form').submit(function(){ return confirm("Are you sure you want to submit this form?"); }); });`
