The District accused the jail of dangerous practices and failed to follow some federal standards that would have prevented an inmate's death. Federal regulations would have required the jail to obtain medical or mental health treatment for the inmate. The Las Cruces Fire Department was called to the jail about 6:30 a.m. Sunday for a "health and safety" issue, said Assistant Fire Chief Rich Cox. When fire officials arrived, they found the inmate, who was unconscious and not breathing, Cox said. The inmate had been on suicide watch, he said. The inmate was taken to a hospital, where he was pronounced dead. Cox said the jail failed to provide mental health care to the inmate. "There was a mental health assessment within the last year, but there was no recent follow-up," Cox said. The fire department took over the inmate's care, Cox said. "Fire is not a health care provider. It's a rescue and emergency situation," he said. The fire chief notified the jail about the situation. "It was a bad situation," Cox said. "We know they're busy. We know they've got emergencies all over the place." He said the fire department talked to fire officials at the jail and found it well-staffed. The county provided a written statement: "The county is in the process of fully investigating the death of the inmate and the matter will be presented to the District of Columbia government. In the meantime, we have no further comment on this matter." The District of Columbia said the death occurred because the jail did not follow federal regulations

This code replaced both occurrences, but I want to keep the first one: I tried changing the first "*" to "[1]", but that did not work. I could not find a way in the XML or XSLT specification to say I want the first occurrence. Any suggestions? f988f36e3a
